Manitoba Law Valid

Privy Council Finds Province Has a Right to Enforce Prohibition.
Decision Important One as Defining Powers Under the B.N.A. Act.
Opinions of Legal Lights on the Effects of the Judgement.

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—A cable received by the department of justice today states that the judicial committee of the Privy Council has given a decision sustaining the Manitoba prohibition law. The decision upsets the judgment of the Manitoba courts, which held that the law was ultra vires. The act was passed while Mr. Hugh John Macdonald was premier.
Winnipeg, Nov. 22.—Members of the Manitoba government refuse to talk as to the action of the government following the finding of the Imperial Privy Council, declaring that the province has the power to enforce prohibition. It is well known that some members of the cabinet are divided in opinion on the prohibition question.
Mr. F. H. Phippen, who was counsel for the local liquor dealers before the Imperial Privy Council, was interviewed in regard to the decision. He said: "I have just received a cable which corroborates your information that the act is upheld. It was as follows:
"The Manitoba liquor judgment today decides the act valid. The answer to question No. 1 falls under No. 16, other questions unanswered as serving no useful purpose."
"The section 16 referred to in the provincial government to the court was, 'That the legislative assembly of Manitoba has jurisdiction to enact the liquor act, and if not, in what particular or respect has it exceeded its power?'
"The section 16 referred to in the cablegram is sub-section 16, of section 92, of the British North America Act, which authorizes the province to legislate in respect to all matters of a merely local or private nature in the province."
"The effect of the judgment would appear to be that the judicial committee is of the opinion that prohibition legislation as dealt with by the liquor act is a local matter and therefore within the competence of the local legislature."
"The Court of King's Bench of Manitoba took a different view. It thought the act affected matters beyond the province and was therefore bad, as interfering with trade and commerce."
"It is possible," said Mr. Phippen, in conclusion, "that on obtaining a copy of the decision, the decision may appear in a different light, but the above explanation is as it would seem to me from the cablegram."
"Then prohibition is practically an accomplished fact, at least when the present licenses run out?"
"That depends on the government's action."
"Will the liquor dealers take any steps?"
"I cannot tell."
J. A. M. Aikens, K.C., who framed the liquor bill, said: "The decision rendered will, I have no doubt, not only be important in respect to transactions in liquor, in defining the different jurisdictions of the Dominion and Provincial legislatures, but will no doubt be important in fixing the limits of these jurisdictions in respect to other matters too. I was not at all surprised at opinions differing as to the validity of the act, in view of the fact that previous decisions of the Privy Council were not clear as to the right of the province to legislate in respect to wholesale transactions in liquor. It was difficult to draw an act close up to the limit of provincial jurisdiction, and after drawn, difficult to view that it was clearly within the power of the province."
Toronto, Nov. 22.—The Evening Telegram's special London cable says:
"The judicial committee of the Privy Council today advised the King to disallow the decision of the Court of King's Bench of Manitoba, dated February 23, 1901, and declaring the Manitoba liquor or prohibition act to be unconstitutional and void, on the grounds that the power of the province to pass such legislation does not come within section 92 of the B. N. A. Act, wherein the province is authorized to legislate in regard to property and civil rights."
Lord MacNaghten delivered judgment, in which the Law Lords said that although the questions submitted to the Court of King's Bench in Manitoba numbered 11, only one question was considered in the Court of King's Bench and their Lordships had considered only one question in the judicial committee of the Privy Council. That question was: "Had the Manitoba legislature power to pass the act; if not, in what particular respect did the legislature exceed its powers?"
Referring to section 119 of the Manitoba Liquor Act (this section appears to recognize such limitations as section 92 of the B. N. A. Act imposes on the power of the province), their Lordships declare that the provisions of section 119 are as much part of the act as any other section, and that these provisions must have their full effect in exemption from the operation of the act all bona fide transactions in liquor which come within its terms.
The Court of King's Bench in Manitoba, in declaring the Liquor Act to be unconstitutional, said:
"It is enough to say that the provisions of the act are extremely stringent, more stringent probably than anything to be found in any legislation of similar kind, and that unless the act is to become a dead letter, it must interfere with the revenue of the Dominion with the licensed trades of the province of Manitoba, and indirectly with the business operations beyond the limits of the province."
The words represent the grounds on which the Court of King's Bench of Manitoba declared the Liquor Act to be unconstitutional, and in excess of powers conferred by section 92 of the B. N. A. Act, authorizing the province to legislate in regard to property and civil rights.
The judgment as delivered by Lord MacNaghten notes the objections, but goes on to say that in the opinion of

Their Lordships, these objections are removed by the judgment of the judicial committee of the Privy Council in the case of the Attorney-General of Ontario v. The Attorney-General of the Dominion. Lord MacNaghten declared that five law lords of the judicial committee who heard the case (Lords Hobhouse, MacNaghten, Davey, Robertson and Lindley) would advise His Majesty the King that the judgment of the Court of King's Bench of Manitoba, dated February 23, 1901, be discharged, substituting the committee's answer to 11 questions.
The judicial committee of the Privy Council declared that the legislative assembly of Manitoba had jurisdiction to enact the Liquor Act. Their Lordships are of opinion that the answer to question 1 answers all questions from 2 to 11, and that therefore no useful answer can be given to these questions.
Their Lordships further order that their shall be no costs between the parties to this case.
Toronto, Nov. 22.—Special—Temperance was the subject of the decision in the Manitoba liquor law. They say they have a definite pledge from Premier Ross that the Ontario government will pass as full a measure of prohibition as the law will permit. This pledge was given to a deputation, of which Dr. Carman, the head of the Methodist church, Principal Caven and other religious leaders are members. F. S. Spence, secretary of the Dominion Alliance, says the logical result of the decision is prohibition.
Hon. G. W. Ross refused to make any statement as to the effect of the Manitoba act decision on Ontario, as it would be premature.
The Evening News in its editorial comment tonight, said: "The highest court in the land has declared the Prohibition act placed on the statute book of Manitoba by Hugh John Macdonald, valid, and the Prairie Province will now have prohibition."
"Critics of Mr. Macdonald, who charged him with insincerity in framing the law, and predicted an adverse judgment by the Privy Council, will now hide their heads and probably begin to lay pipes for bringing about amendment of the act. In carrying out his pledge to the people of Manitoba, Mr. Macdonald showed himself a man of his word. He kept his pledge to enact a prohibition law, and he prepared it so that it would stand the severest test the liquor interest could put to it."

Railway Policy Bearing Fruit Definitely Decided That Victoria Will Be the Terminus of Canadian Northern.
Hon. W. C. Wells Mission to Montreal Has Important Results For Province.
Special to the Colonist.
Montreal, Nov. 22.—As a result of the vigorous railway policy of the British Columbia government, Victoria, before long, will be the terminus of a transcontinental railway.
Messrs. William Mackenzie and D. D. Mann arrived here on Wednesday in their private car Dauphin, accompanied by Hon. Mr. Wells, chief commissioner of lands and works, and Mr. J. N. Greenshields, K.C., of Montreal. The extension of the Canadian Northern was under discussion for some days, not only here, but in Toronto and Ottawa. The original scheme of Messrs. Mackenzie and Mann was to build through the Yellow Head Pass to Quesnel, and thence northwest to a port on the Skeena, but the British Columbia government proposed that the line should be diverted at Quesnel and built southwest to Bute Inlet. From there a ferry would run to Seymour Narrows and connect with the extension of the E. & N. railway from Wellington.
The negotiations conducted by Hon. Mr. Wells and Mr. Greenshields came to a successful conclusion today, and Messrs. Mackenzie and Mann have submitted a definite proposition for the early construction of the line from Bute Inlet to Quesnel, beginning at the coast first.
As a result of the negotiations at Ottawa it is understood that the Dominion government will subsidize both roads. Thus Victoria will practically become the Western terminus of the Canadian Northern railway.
Mr. Mackenzie expects to have his trains running from Lake Superior into Winnipeg within a month. Beyond Winnipeg over 800 miles are built, and he expects to complete the line to the Coast in the next three or four years.
Mr. Mann and Mr. Greenshields will go to Victoria early in January to determine the terms and complete other details.
Messrs. Mackenzie & Mann have also under consideration the construction of the Coast-Kootenay line from Hope, east to Midway, where it will connect with both the C. P. R. and Great Northern; but this proposition is not as far advanced.
The first arrangement, however, definitely assures the construction of the line from Bute Inlet to Quesnel.

Department of Militia Will Easily Fill Ranks of Third Contingent.
Commanding Officer Will Have Free Hand in Selecting Subordinates.
An Essentially Canadian Force Consisting of Six Hundred Men.

From Our Own Correspondent.
Ottawa, Nov. 22.—The department of militia is daily receiving offers to serve with the third contingent. These come from all parts of Canada and even from the United States. Today a United States doctor tendered his services, and a request for a commission was also received from a young Canadian residing in Lowell, Mass.
Dr. Borden said tonight the force, if accepted, would be essentially Canadian and would consist of 600 men. The officers will receive their commissions from the Imperial government, but Canada will equip the force, furnish horses, arms and outfit, even to the tents, so that when the force lands in South Africa it will be ready to take the field.
"My idea is," the minister continued, "to give the commanding officer as free a hand as possible in selecting his staff and officers." It is believed Dr. Borden has Col. Evans of Winnipeg in view.
The decision of the judicial committee of the Privy Council, sustaining the Manitoba prohibitory law, was fully expected here. Mr. Blake when in Canada a few weeks ago, gave the government a hint as to what the result would be.

Practically all of them had difficult troubles, long endured. Most of them were discouraged. Yet 39 out of 40 who received those six bottles paid for them. They paid because they were cured, for otherwise no druggist asks a penny for it. I cannot better prove my own faith in this remedy. No physician can do more than pay for your treatment if it fails. REBELLION IN VENEZUELA IN A STATE OF SUSPENSE

Arrest of Minister of War Causes Excitement—More Trouble Expected.

Welhelmstadt, Nov. 22.—The arrest yesterday at Port Cabello, of Ramon Guerra, the Venezuelan minister of war, who was elected last month to the post of second vice-president of the republic, is reported here to have caused much excitement throughout Venezuela. President Castro has called the revolution, which is beginning to be called the Matos revolution, has been frustrated. The truth of this statement is denied here, where it is said this revolution has not yet begun. A steamer alleged to have on board 5,000,000 cartridges and 15,000 Mauser rifles destined for the use of the Venezuelan revolutionists, is expected to arrive in the West Indies about the middle of December. The representatives of the revolutionist movement now here say the revolt will start after these arms and ammunition are available and that the movement will receive the active or passive co-operation of large numbers of Venezuelans, who, they say, are becoming tired of the existing state of affairs in Venezuela, which is characterized by Gen. Castro's political opponents as the "state of anarchy and persecution created by the Castro government."

From present reports received here, it appears that a number of inoffensive traders and citizens, incapable of starting a revolution, have been arrested in Venezuela at the government's orders. It is further said that these political prisoners are to be held as hostages for a promised forced loan by the government.

Bank of Liverpool shares fell £1 on the stock exchange today. The defaulter has not been arrested.

Far Ahead of Liquid Malt Extracts For Imparting Health and Strength.

When it is possible, judge for yourself, more especially in matters concerning health. A large number of worthy people in order to gain flesh and strength, use malt extracts. It should be well known that these liquid malts are spoiled by the admixture of fermented liquors, and are injurious to digestion. For the gaining of health, strength and vigor, eat malt; do not drink it. Malt Breakfast Food gives to all who are seeking for strength and robustness the pure Malt in its simple and fresh condition. This Malt renders the starch of the Wheat soluble, giving a food in which digestion has already commenced, therefore easily digested by the human digestive agent.

It is an established fact—one worthy of special note—that one package of Malt Breakfast Food contains more nourishment and strengthening qualities than can be found in one dozen bottles of liquid extracts costing from fifteen to twenty times more money. See your Grocer.

PUBLIC MEETING AT VANCOUVER

Scene Between Mr. McPhillips and Mr. Gilmour Livens Up Otherwise Dull Time.

Special to the Colonist.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 22.—The Mass meeting called tonight for the purpose of passing resolutions of want of confidence in the Provincial Government, was largely attended. It was a very tame affair however until Mr. Gilmour attacked the opponents of the government who had spoken before him. Then Mr. J. J. McPhillips became very angry and gave Mr. Gilmour the lie, and pushed himself in front of the speaker. The audience, however, were not with the Victoria man, and shouted him down. Mr. J. J. McPhillips acted as chairman, and his coolness and good judgment perhaps prevented more serious results.

The following resolution was passed: Moved by Capt. Tatlow, seconded by Mr. McBride, that the citizens of Vancouver, in public meeting assembled, hereby resolve that whereas the attitude of the Provincial Government in dealing with the cabinet, is detrimental to the best interests of the province; whereas a vacancy has existed for some time in the constituency of Victoria, and no writ has been issued for an election, and whereas a cabinet minister has been defeated at Westminster; therefore in the opinion of the meeting we believe that the government has lost the confidence of the people, and should call a session of the legislature at as early a date as possible.

Count Tatlow referred to meetings at Chilliwack and Ladysmith at which resolutions were passed. He accused Premier Dunsinuir of not keeping his promise made at the Hotel Vancouver conference when the Dunsinuir administration was born and of conspiracy with Mr. Martin to defeat the wishes of the people regarding the V. V. & E. railway. He stated that Premier Dunsinuir's personal following in the government was only 15, while his employees, the rest of the support consisting of Mr. Jos. Martin and his following. He said the very first act of the opposition party would be to try and force through the legislature a policy for the completion of the railways, and a full and fair redistribution bill.

Mr. McBride said he had been elected to oppose Mr. Martin and when Mr. Martin entered in an alliance with Premier Dunsinuir, he had to resign to keep faith with those who had elected him. Mr. McBride said he had been a member in party, but he was not anxious to have the battle fought out on party lines. He thought Mr. Hall, when the house met, would be against the government, as although an employee of the government, he would not be bought. Mr. Hunter was going to resign, but he would certainly oppose Premier Dunsinuir if he did not resign. He was also an employee of Mr. Dunsinuir, but could not be bought. Mr. Taylor was out of harm's way. The government was doomed. They had hung up two portfolios and had no takers.

Mr. H. Garden placed himself on record as opposing the present government. Mr. A. B. McPhillips bitterly denounced the Provincial government and the C. P. R. Mr. McPhillips' outbursts of fiery rhetoric did not seem to suit the Vancouver audience.

Mr. Gilmour, the only speaker recognized with hearty applause. He arraigned the speakers of the evening for changing front so suddenly. He said, with the exception of Mr. Tatlow, they had blindly followed the government they now so bitterly denounced. Every one of them, with the exception of Mr. Tatlow, had gone to the government caucus when their names, sent in by themselves, were before the opposition as applicants to join the ranks of the opposition. Mr. Gilmour's statement caused an uproar in the audience and the fun commenced. Mr. McPhillips placed himself in front of Mr. Gilmour to explain, the audience told him to sit down, and called on the chairman to make him sit down. Mr. Gilmour finally consented to allow Mr. McPhillips to ask him a question. Instead of asking a question Mr. McPhillips denied that he was playing a double part in the house. Mr. Gilmour repeated his assertion and Mr. McPhillips shouted: "It's a lie! It's a lie!"

Mr. Gilmour continued to roast Mr. McPhillips to the delight of the audience. He asked him if he had not voted against the eight-hour law. Mr. McPhillips nodded, and part of the audience roared with derisive applause. Immediately Mr. McPhillips tried to get a hearing to explain that he made a mistake when he had not voted against the eight-hour law and would look up his vote and have it published. Mr. Gilmour said he had. Mr. McPhillips again placed himself in front of the speaker and was pushed aside by Mr. Gilmour. The audience then asked Mr. McPhillips to be made to sit down, and at the chairman's request Mr. McPhillips did so. Mr. Gilmour then accused Mr. McPhillips of advocating the placing of 500 Chinese names on the voters' list that Victoria might have another meeting, also of voting against the Full Court sitting in Vancouver.

Mr. McPhillips again unsuccessfully attempted to get a hearing, but a voice shouted to Gilmour that they had had enough McPhillips and to let him alone. Mr. Gilmour took the hint and thereupon talked of other matters.

Mr. Smith Curtis wound up the meeting. Feeling that Mr. McPhillips had been misunderstood by the Vancouver audience, he informed those present that he knew Mr. McPhillips and intimated that he could assure them that he was an honest, straightforward, conscientious man, and that the charges of his convictions, and because of these virtues he was always sure of election at the polls. He attacked Mr. Gilmour for condemning the government members only because, at a late hour, they had come over to the opposition. He accused Mr. Martin of having deserted his followers and went at length into the conduct of the government since its inception, showing, according to his own lights, why the resolution of want of confidence should be passed.

UNION IS STRENGTH.

Vancouver Athletic Clubs Discussing Amalgamation.

Vancouver, Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The Brockton Point Amateur Athletic association met delegates from the different clubs in the city last night and placed before them a scheme by which all the clubs might be amalgamated under the management and control of the association. The Vancouver Athletic club and the Association Football club demurred, the former on the ground that they would be placed at a disadvantage with the other clubs, as they would be required to hand in money and valuable property under the arrangement, while other clubs having little or nothing to hand in would make no sacrifice. A resolution was passed favoring the scheme. Circulars will be sent to all the clubs fully explaining the proposition, and another meeting will be held to further discuss the matter.

THE FAILURES.

Toronto, Nov. 22.—The failures in Canada for the week as reported by Dunn's Review, are 33, against 29 for the same week of last year.

Hood's Sarsaparilla was given the daughter of Silas Vernoy, Wawarsing, N. Y., who had broken out with scrofula sores all over her face and head. HENLEY.

A Canadian Oarsman Writes on the Situation.

London, Nov. 22.—The Times published a long letter from Mr. Barker, secretary of the Argonaut club of Toronto, urging the stewards of the Henley regatta not to change their conditions concerning foreign or colonial entries, which are described as "triflingly sufficient to keep the standard of amateurism high enough to satisfy the most pessimistic." Mr. Barker declares that the Canadian or United States crews go simply to row at Henley and for no other reason, and that until one of them can win, it can hardly be expected that a British crew will visit America, "an event that would do much to raise the standard of rowing in the New World."

Vancouver Will Ask Government to Convey Land to City.

Mayor Townley of Vancouver came over on the Charmer last evening to interview the government on the subject of the city's title to certain lands fronting on False creek. The legislature passed an act in 1900 conferring power upon the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council to convey to the city of Vancouver portions of the foreshore of False creek and Coal harbor, the title to which are vested in the crown. The object of Mayor Townley's visit is to ask the government to exercise the powers thus conferred.

The Rev. C. F. WELLS, of Villa Ridge, Ill., says: "Your trial bottle of Asthmalene received in good condition. I cannot tell you how thankful I feel for the good derived from it. I was a slave, chained with putrid sore throat and Asthma for ten years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement for the cure of this dreadful and tormenting disease, Asthma, and thought you had overspoken yourself, but resolved to give it a trial. To my astonishment the trial acted like a charm. Send me a full-sized bottle."

Gentlemen: I write this testimonial from a sense of duty, having tested the wonderful effect of your Asthmalene, for the cure of Asthma. My wife has been afflicted with spasmodic asthma for the past 12 years. Having exhausted my own skill as well as many others, I chained to see you sign upon your windows on 130th street, New York, I at once obtained a bottle of Asthmalene. My wife commenced taking it about the first of November. I very soon noticed a radical improvement. After using one bottle her Asthma has disappeared and she is entirely free from all symptoms. I feel that I can conscientiously recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease. Yours respectfully,

B. C. RAILWAYS.

The announcement, which we are able to make this morning, that the early construction of the Canadian Northern through British Columbia, so as to make Victoria the terminus of a new transcontinental railway, is perhaps the most important ever made in this city.
For nothing has the Colonist contended more earnestly than for this, and we hope no difficulties will arise to prevent the immediate consummation of this great undertaking. The Coast-Kootenay line is also under consideration, and we hope will be carried out in a measure that will make Victoria a terminal of another transcontinental system. We can only this morning add the hope that the plans outlined in our Montreal special will be carried out with the least possible delay.

A WESTERN POLICY.

Pursuing the discussion of what we have called a Western Policy for Canada, it may be well, for the sake of completeness, to mention some of the factors, which we think ought to be included in it, and then deal with each in detail. At present we have in mind five such factors, namely:

The establishment of a great oresmelting industry on Vancouver Island and the promotion of commerce north and south in connection therewith.

The colonization of British Columbia by people of the British race and with the least possible delay.

The promotion of greater interest in our Pacific Coast deep sea fisheries.

The development of Oriental and Australian trade.

The completion of our system of local and transcontinental transportation system.

Sufficient reference has been made to the first factor in the articles which appeared in the Colonist of yesterday and the day previous. We shall now take up the second factor.

The Pacific coast of the American Continent extends across one hundred and thirty degrees of latitude, from Cape Barrow, on the North, to Cape Horn on the south. Of this six degrees, namely from the 49th parallel north to the 55th parallel north, are British territory. Through a piece of phenomenal foolery the British government neglected to secure Alaska when it was going begging for a purchaser, and it was taken over, though with considerable reluctance, by the United States. The consequence is that the British part of this exceedingly important coast lies between two portions of a foreign power, with whom we are at present on friendly terms, but between whom and us there will always be keen rivalry. We do not anticipate any revival of the claim once put forward by the United States for the ownership of this whole coast as far north as "fifty-four, forty," but no less a personage than the present President of the United States has expressed the opinion that the abandonment of that claim was an error. Alaska is certain to be very greatly developed in the near future. The people of the United States feel the constraint of their territory south of the 49th parallel, and they are reaching out to find new worlds for in-ustrial conquest. Alaska presents such an arena, and it is sure to be exploited to the fullest extent. The State of Washington is rapidly becoming a great hive of industry and Puget Sound is making its way to the very front rank as a depot of commerce. It is as certain as anything human can be, that within a short time great commercial cities will be established on Puget Sound, and that the Alaskan Archipelago and coast will be peopled by a hardy and aggressive population. Between these two centres of American influence, industry and aggressiveness will lie the six degrees of Canadian coast, and we submit that the instincts of patriotism, the principles of statesmanship and the welfare of the Empire demand that this threshold of the Pacific should be in the hands of people of British birth and trained in British ideas and the resolve to maintain British prestige. It is not desirable that this great strategic point should be peopled by a heterogeneous population, consisting in small part of Canadians and natives of Great Britain, but principally by people who have been crowded out of the United States, the semi-civilized people of Central and Eastern Europe, and a horde of Mongolians. We have lately seen that in the Yukon, a part of Canada where, as in all parts of the British Empire, there has been no distinction between men no matter of what nationality the horrid head of rebellion has shown the purpose of asserting itself. The Empire should take warning by this, and shoot it at its great outposts, and along its imperial highways, sufficient Britons shall always be on guard to ensure that what we have we shall ever hold. We do not mean by this that we shall always have a strong garrison at Esquimalt and a powerful squadron on the North Pacific station. We mean something very different to this. It is that the country shall be peopled by people of the British race, who shall ever maintain here the British flag and all that it implies.

About a year ago the Colonist made reference to this matter in connection with the threatened invasion of Japanese. It is rendered more important by the actual invasion that is in progress from the United States. The difficulties that have occurred in Kootenay have been almost wholly due to the invasion of the province by people, who found it desirable to leave the United States.
We have been told of a settlement in this province for which the government has done very much, and whose people have shown their gratitude by expressing hearty sympathy with the Boers.
We have been told of men who have lived in this province and for years have enjoyed its advantages, and yet so imbued with the prejudices inculcated in their minds by their early education, that while outwardly loyal to the land in which they live, they are at heart hostile to every interest of the British Crown. Let it not be supposed that this article is intended to suggest that there is any peril threatening or likely to threaten. It is well, however, to guard against possible emergencies. We have seen in South Africa how the Cape Dutch have forgotten their duty to the flag under which they have lived and prospered, and have given their sympathy and active support to the enemy, at a cost to the Empire of millions of money and thousands of lives. But for the disaffection of the Cape Dutch, the war in South Africa would have been over long ago. Except in South Africa, the Empire is today at peace with all the world, and there is undoubtedly a desire on the part of all great nations to avoid war. But it would be a singularly unwise statesman who would trust to the early inauguration of a period of peace. No one expects anything of the kind, as the increasing armaments of the world show. But it is of little use to train a great army and equip a mighty fleet, while we permit the life-blood of the Empire to be drained off to foreign lands and allow aliens to occupy the great strategic points in British Dominions beyond seas. The time may come when the might of the Empire will have to be exerted to maintain the su-premaccy of the flag over these six degrees of latitude, which form the Pacific Coast of Canada, and it will make all the difference in the world, when that time comes, whether British Columbia is peopled with loyal Britons or with aliens, who are only under the flag because it suits their pockets to be so.

In view of these considerations we submit to Sir Wilfrid Laurier that as Premier of Canada and a statesman with whose name true British Imperialism is so closely associated, he has a great and pressing duty to perform in this connection. It is to devise some means whereby British Columbia can be settled by British people. We shall not attempt in this article to indicate how this can best be done. In future issues some consideration may be given to it, but the question is too great to be disposed of off-hand. We may say, however, that it appears to us that the question is one in working out which the Imperial government and the provincial government might co-operate with the Dominion government to good advantage. For the present we shall leave the question at this stage, not because there is nothing more to be said about it, but because there is so much, and because to discuss it in greater detail calls for careful thought and long consideration. We invite our contemporaries throughout Canada to express their views upon it.

A TOURIST ASSOCIATION.

Yesterday's meeting makes the organization in Victoria of an efficient Tourists' Association a certainty. More interest was evidenced than usually is in movements of this nature in this city.
An efficient committee has been appointed to get up the details of the organization, and the energetic secretary may be relied on to let no time be lost in putting matters on a business basis.
Such excellent results have been reached elsewhere from work of the class proposed, that the movement is everything else but experimental. There is an excellent field in which such an organization can work.

We shall not devote much space to the subject this morning, for until the committee has its plans definitely prepared, discussion may be postponed without disadvantage. It may be well to add that the intention is, if possible, to unite the City Council, the transportation companies and the citizens generally in the work of making the attractions of Victoria better known. For this purpose considerable money will be needed.
We suppose that the effort ought to be to get together at least $5,000 as a beginning. The money would not all be required at once, and therefore the payments could be in instalments. The movement is one that ought to appeal to every business man, for the expenditure by tourists is large. It is estimated that St. John was benefited last year by the expenditure of two and a half million dollars from this source, and it is not at all unreasonable to hope that within a very few years Victoria's revenue from tourists may reach even a greater sum. We have the attractions that will bring tourists here. We have the territory to draw from. All that is necessary is to get information as to the former in the hands of the people of the latter, and the results will be a golden harvest.

The Times says that the Dominion government after listening to what Mr.
Dunsmuir had to say on behalf of the province, concluded that it was better for each government to attend to its own affairs. It is careful to say that this may not have been said in so many words, but it tells us that actions speak louder than words. In this matter the Times is speaking without authority, and is misrepresenting the government which it professes to support. It is quite possible that the Times does not know the attitude of the government of Canada towards the government of British Columbia in the matter of western development, but we can tell it that it entirely misrepresents that government in what it says. The trouble with our contemporary is that it made a very bad blunder in antagonizing the position taken by the Colonist and not having the courage to admit that it made a mistake, has gone on blundering until it has landed itself in about the meanest kind of a hole any newspaper ever got into. To make a point against the Colonist it slanders the government which it supports. But this is enough on important things than the gyrations of our contemporary to occupy attention.
May we tell the Times that there is such a thing as a bona fide desire to advance the welfare of British Columbia, and that it is possible for a newspaper to be absolutely honest in dealing with such questions as those which the Colonist is endeavoring to discuss?

The decision of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council that the Manitoba Prohibitory law is within the jurisdiction of the local legislature is likely to lead to other prohibitory enactments in Canada. This is one of the most important decisions ever made upon the interpretation of the British North America Act, not only as to the powers of the local legislatures, but in its indirect effect upon the conditions of the country generally. The enactment and enforcement of prohibitory laws will mean much to the Dominion in a financial way, for it will cut off a large source of revenue. Such laws are almost certain to be passed in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, and Ontario is not likely to be very far behind.

The Times wants the Colonist to say if it is untrammelled in the discussion of questions affecting the welfare of British Columbia, which may be submitted for the consideration of the federal government. Our answer is that it is absolutely untrammelled. In its discussion of such questions the Colonist has over and over again shown not by assertions but by the arguments it has brought forward and the appeals it has made, that it is free to discuss every question from any standpoint that may commend itself to its judgment.

What will Mr. Stead and his allies in and out of Britain say of General Andries Cronje, who has taken up arms against Mr. Stead's brother Boers?
Cronje probably realizes that the guerilla resistance offered our troops is only maintained by men who have nothing to gain by peace—desperadoes, who are making fighting their business.

Under the heading "Very Low, Indeed," the Times says that the letter which appeared in the Colonist, signed Metochosin a few days ago, was written nearer this office than Metochosin. We congratulate our contemporary on the heading selected for such a statement, for it is very low indeed.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE BRIDGES.

Sir,—I think the majority of ratepayers will fully endorse your position in the important question of the Point Ellice bridge.
We have had a disgraceful and dangerous marketplace and do not want another.
By all means let the wider bridge be built, and that by a home firm, which will be the means of keeping a large part of the expenditure in the city amongst our own people. Why should our aldermen deem it necessary to have the James Bay bridge over 20 feet wide, and the Point Ellice one 21 feet only? The foot walks form no benefit to the traffic part of the bridge, and cannot be counted in the width. If the mayor and aldermen are not sure of their ground let them consult those who pay the cost and the aldermen of their opinion, given at a public meeting, which should be called at once.

W. J. MACDONALD.

BRIDGE BUILDING IN COMOX.

Sir,—The new Courtenay river bridge was erected in the winter of 1899, when the Semlin government was in power, and just now the new Tsolum river bridge is under construction. For the last forty years those streams have been relied on to rise in winter, and hitherto we have never been troubled by the water of the Courtenay and Tsolum bridges has been carried away and replaced, with every prospect of a repel-lance of the same before completion. And what sort of day's work can you expect from over-coated and oil-skinned men?
Probably ministers are not directly responsible for this waste of public money, but what about the official who has been at the head of the Lands and Works Department for many years?

President Eliot of Harvard, insists that the school teachers spend altogether too much time trying to teach arithmetic to young children. In his Twentieth Century Club he told of a naughty boy who was told by his mother that he was a fool because he could not learn the room. The boy thought for a moment and then replied, "That's fair." "I would give more for that intellect," said President Eliot, "than for any amount of accurate figuring."

The Quick Pace of Declining Health

Wasted Nerves and Weakened Bodies Give Way to Suffering and Disease—The Action of

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

There are hosts of people who are susceptible to various kinds of illness. Their systems are over-ready to take on disease. They bend under the slightest trial and their health is jeopardized by every trivial ex-posure. They lack resisting power, and health declines because there is no force to make good the waste by disease.

At first slight weakness, stomach annoyance, headache, heart fluttering, trembling of the hands and limbs, restless sleep, indicate something is lacking in the system. These are the signs of the stock of nerve force is replenished the pace of declining health will increase, until lost vitality is expressed in every move.

Pale, languid, nerve-shattered people find exactly what they require in Dr.
Chase's Nerve Food. It supplies the wants of wasted nerves, rebuilds the wasted cells, and renews the blood. Its wonderful cures are due to the fact that it restores natural nerve force, and it is lack of nerve force that causes most suffering. These days of nervousness, heart nerves, stomach nerves, give out, and all sorts of troubles follow.

Mrs. A. McCrea, Troy Hill, Ont., writes: "My system was all run down when I began to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I was weak and very nervous, and felt so tired and worn out that I could scarcely drag myself about the house. It seemed impossible for me to rest or sleep at night, and I felt that I was gradually growing weaker and more nervous and irritable. Since beginning the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I feel altogether different. It had gradually strengthened my nerves and built up my system wonderfully. I sleep well now, and am being thoroughly restored to health and strength. I believe it is the best medicine to be had for the nerves."

Important Movement

the attention of the traveling public, from these shores to the Atlantic, at all the winter resorts where tourists must do congregate, how quickly we should have traveled here, and how much we have gained from the new-born prosperity.
Not a temporary boom, for when once tourists have been entertained in Victoria, they will not only have an irresistible desire to return, but their friends will be inspired to visit, and see for themselves the attractions which will be enthusiastically described.

I speak from experience. You must admit, however, that there is a fascination in the Northland which must be counted upon as a magnet. Those who have been there can truthfully state that in all this wide world no such marvelous scenery exists.

It has rightfully earned the name of "Tourists' Paradise," but the great public has listened so long to tales of terrible and cruel privations which travelers in the North have undergone, that they fail to realize that one is now able to make the voyage most comfortably, if not luxuriously.

Could they understand this, I am confident that they would gladly leave beaten tracks, places which they have visited until weary and turn eagerly towards the modern wonderland. There are also sportsmen to be appealed to.
Let them hear of the moose, caribou, mountain sheep, and many other animals, thousands and thousands of ptarmigan to be found in abundance, game which is extinct, or rare in other countries, and see how quickly they will respond to the invitation to visit. The sportsmen's paradise, particularly when they learn that the director of the Zoological park, New York, has been determined to acquire a new species of mountain sheep. There are many other points which it would be well to consider, but I shall not take your time at present.
If we desire to turn the tide of travel in this direction, we must not be idle dreamers. We must put our shoulders to the wheel. We must act! Dream of prosperity if you will, but let the dream be followed by action. (Applause.)

A letter was received from Mr.
E. McPhillips, M. P., regretting his inability to be present, but wishing the scheme every success.

"Ourselves," the committee, the hotel accommodation of the city.
Mr. Lugin said there could be no doubt as to the advisability of forming an association to attract tourist travel, and to advertise the many advantages natural and commercial, which Victoria and Vancouver island possesses. The idea of advertising the summer temperature of Victoria was a capital one, for the summer of St. John, N. B., was due largely to her summer temperature, which closely resembled that of Victoria, though it was often marred by fog, which was almost unknown here. He knew the lakes and woods of the Mar-time Provinces well, and they were not nearly as attractive as those of Vancouver island for the reason that they had been exploited for more than a century while ours afforded the virgin forest to the sportsman and angler. He criticised the transportation companies for their neglect of Victoria in the past, and hoped they would see their way to giving the more prominent place in their tim-tables, folders, etc., in the future. He would move.

That in the opinion of this meeting it is desirable to organize a Tourist association for Victoria and Vancouver island.

Mr. Helmcken took much pleasure in seconding the resolution. He was pleased to see that this movement which had been quickly agitated by the speakers for some months past, was about to take definite form. There could be no doubt in anybody's mind that Victoria was one of the most beautiful spots on earth, and it only required its attractions to be made known to the world to bring thousands of travelers here.

thousands of visitors coming to our city.
It is not alone the hotels that are benefited. The souvenir stores, jewelry and dry goods houses and indirectly all lines of business are aided. Last winter no less than 72,000 visitors went to Los Angeles, and that is no small number in the world to depend upon but its climate. Eleven years ago that city was a dirty place of about 40,000 people.
Last winter what did I find there? I found a city of over 100,000. And its lovely homes—built to a great extent by Eastern capitalists just to spend a couple of months in the winter. Its lovely streets and its hotels—the equal of any on the continent for the most part of the design, and the manner in which they are conducted. It was no later than the other day where I saw in a hotel journal that Los Angeles and New York were the best hotel cities in America.
We have not Southern California's climate in the winter, but in the summer our climate is as far ahead of our neighboring cities as I might say Washington, Idaho, Montana and Oregon, and California is over many of the states she draws most of her winter patronage.
From my experience I am satisfied if we could get a great number of tourists to visit Victoria in the adjacent States which I have just mentioned, the results would exceed by far our most sanguine expectations.

To get this association established means a lot of careful consideration, and a little generosity on the part of the citizens. I think the first thing we should do is to get a permanent secretary, secure my rooms in the heart of the city, and furnish them in a first class manner. Where strangers could go and get information about fishing, hunting, driving, bicycling and the different resorts. The very thing should be done and gentlemen's toilets, and wash rooms.
The year before last we had quite a number of tourists from Montana, and Eastern Washington. We had ten times as many last year and as I have just learned those that came last summer were friends of the visitors of the previous year. There are several beach resorts in Oregon that some of our visitors were in the habit of visiting, but after reaching here they decided to prolong their visit and cut out the Oregon resorts.

Mr. Eaton remembered a few years ago when he used to travel to the Maritime Provinces was insignificant, but now, through the efforts of the Dominion and Atlantic railway, and the tourist associations, tourist travel has increased to very considerable proportions and added much to the prosperity of the country. If the transportation companies would undertake to advertise the advantages of Victoria and Vancouver island, it would be greatly to their profit as well as that of the community.

Mr. Greer, of the White Pass & Yukon railway said his company would gladly do all in their power to aid the work of the association. He said that in the case of Eastern Oregon from which the tourist travel to Victoria was growing steadily, those who came one season returning the next and bringing their friends.

Mr. D. R. Ker said that during his extended trip last summer, he had noticed that every city and town of importance in the East and in the States had taken steps to advertise their attractions by neat booklets, postal cards and other matter. One of the chief objects for the association would be to send visitors away pleased with the city.
He thought there might be an improvement in the hotel accommodation. He depreciated the custom with some residents of Victoria from building high walls and fences around their houses and grounds. This selfish policy should be discouraged. He had not noticed anything advertising or even mentioning Victoria on the United States railways which he had traveled. He thought the only bit of literature which he had seen was the neat little booklet got up by that enterprising citizen, Mr. Steve Jones, of the Dominion hotel.

Ald. Jones moved to see steps taken to establish the association. The city had donated large sums in the past to advertising schemes of which he doubted the value, not because of their quality, which in many cases was excellent, but because they were of a casual nature. What was required was persistent advertising, and he thought the proposed association was just the way to secure this.

Ald. Cameron heartily endorsed the scheme. He thought there should be no difficulty in raising funds, and instanced the generous response of the citizens at the time of the Klondike rush. He saw no reason why the association should not be made a great success—it only required concerted and vigilance on the part of the citizens of all classes and stations in life, subscribing to the funds of the Chamber of Commerce, which was conducted on similar lines.

The motion was then carried.
Mr. Lugin moved, seconded by Senator McDonald: That a committee be appointed to draft articles of association and solicit subscriptions.
Donald took occasion to express the thanks of the meeting to Mrs. Hitchcock for her inspiring address. He laid stress on the necessity of citizens making their homes surroundings attractive, and expressed the opinion that the city ought aid them materially in this direction by providing water for gardens and lawns at a lower rate or, if possible, free.

The motion was then adopted and the following were appointed a committee to carry out its provisions: Messrs. Harnagle, Jones, Chaloner, Blackwood, Abbott, Ker, Gossnell, Fraser, Cameron, Lugin, Clark and Mayor Hayward.

It was decided that the committee should meet at the call of the secretary.
The meeting then adjourned.

I don't, eh? Haven't I been to every place, and every man, woman and child, for months, got into debt hopelessly, had my apparel removed, and all for your sake?—

A MESSAGE TO TORTURED AND RACKED SUFFERERS.

A LADY TELLS OF HER CURE BY

Paine's Celery Compound

Her Condition Before Using the Great Medicine Was So Bad She Could Not Raise Her Hands to
Her Head and Could
Not Walk.

In the majority of cases, the prime cause of rheumatism is a lack of nerve force. When the nervous system is weakened, the joints swell—usually the knees, elbows and wrists, and there is severe inflammation and suffering.
Paine's Celery Compound is the only medicine that can banish the gathering symptoms and permanently cure the most terrible cases of the disease.
Thousands of strong testimonials from the people of Canada—many from your near friends and neighbors—prove conclusively that no other medicine possesses such marvelous power for the cure of rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago.
An Orilla, Ont., lady, Mrs. S. W.
Sullivan, writes thus:
"Early last autumn I was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that I could not raise my hands to my head, and could not walk owing to pains and stiffness of joints. At night I rarely slept owing to nervousness and feelings of exhaustion. I commenced to use Paine's Celery Compound, and soon found myself greatly relieved, and after use of first bottle, my pains and nervous feelings were banished. In order to make the cure complete, I used the second bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and now I am as strong as ever before. I sleep well, appetite is always good, and my digestive vigor all that I could wish for."
